

I agree with labeling television programming which would allow parents to more readily censor the programming their children are viewing, however, I do not agree with the government censoring or restricting television content. It is the express responsibility of parents to censor their children, not the responsibility of the government.